

MATERNITY LEAVE ANNOUNCEMENT

I am sure I am not surprising anyone when I say my family and I are expecting a baby in March. I believe my growing belly made this announcement a while back.

I decided to continue working till a few weeks to my due date hence I will be starting my maternity leave from 1st March 2018 until the end of November 2018.

In my absence, Dr. Suzanne Gwilliam, whom many of you have already met and spoken very highly of, will be taking my place till I return.

Based on her past performance and the many positive feedbacks from you all, I am very confident to leave you in her very capable hands.

I cannot express how much I will miss each and everyone of you while I am gone temporarily and cannot wait to return to work soon.

Thank you for all your well wishes and the many gifts!

See you all soon!

Most sincerely,

Dr. Deborah Obu.
